

Open The Doors

*Here is the church
And here is the steeple;
Open the doors
And here are the people!
Here is our school,
A heavenly haven;
Open the doors
And here are the children!*

Look inside the building; what do you see?
Many different faces like you and me.
We are living stones, houses that breathe
Built on firm foundations:
Our faith, our belief.

And here is the steeple;
Open the doors
And here are the people!
Here is our school,
A heavenly haven;
Open the doors
And here are the children!*

Many different people help us to be
Each and every person that you can see.
When we work together then we can grow,
Filled with awe and wonder
There's so much to know!

And here is the steeple;
Open the doors
And here are the people!
Here is the school,
The child and the teacher;
Open the doors
